U. S. STEERS FARTHER AWAY FROM LEAGUE

America Will Not Be Represented at Council Meeting to Discuss Mandates.

STILL RELY ON HARVEY

Ambassador's Speech Concerning League Outlined Administration Views.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington—The United States government has no intention of sending a representative even unofficially to discuss with the council of the League of Nations the matter of mandates.

This may be unpleasant news to those who have had a lingering hope that the mandate question would serve as a bridge over which the Harding administration could conveniently reach the council of the league without embarrassment, but it is nevertheless the truth.

The invitation sent by the council of the league to Secretary Colby to send a representative to discuss mandates was purposely left unanswered
so that the Harding administration might be free to do as it pleased with the request. Paris dispatches in the last few days have sought informally
to remind the American government that the invitation is still unanswered.
In the same informal way the word
goes out that the Harding administration does not anticipate the necessity of sending any representative official or unofficial to the next meeting of the council.

Harvey Still in Favor

So far as mandates are concerned,
the United States has a means of communication with all the powers
through the supreme council, which is attended by Ambassador George Harvey as the personal representative of the president of the United States. Although the American ambassador has made one or two errors
of speech which he himself attributes to inexperience as a diplomat and although Secretary Hughes and President Harding have both felt it necessary to define America's purposes
in entering the war as unselfish instead of selfish, Mr. Harvey is still in good favor and is charged with the responsibility of negotiating all the delicate questions which America
may want discussed with the great powers. Those who have had a chance to read the Harvey cablegrams from abroad say they are characteristically direct and to the point and that he is following carefully the instructions of the department of state. Indeed, the notes of instruction sent by Secretary Hughes to American diplomats abroad are themselves so precise and definite that there is no room for misunderstanding.

Ambassador Harvey made the statement that the United States would not have anything to do with the league or any of its committees directly or indirectly. This was doubted at the time, but it turns out that he had an accurate idea of Harding administration policy. Even the Root plan for an international court of justice which is the offspring of a committee of the League of Nations is not to be accepted unless it is completely separated from the machinery of the league.

The determination to steer clear of the League of Nations and deal
only with the supreme council is growing stronger in administration quarters especially because the president is becoming convinced that there is no real task which cannot be as directly handled in the supreme council,
as in the parallel organization of the League of Nations, namely, the council.

BLAME SINN FEIN FOR GUN SMUGGLING

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—The "phantom crew" which smuggled machine guns and ammunition aboard the steamer East Side, was believed Friday to be a detail of the Irish republican army.

Federal officers who seized the munitions in a spectacular raid just before the steamer sailed Wednesday night for Norfolk, Va., and Belfast, were convinced the shipment was intended for revolutionists, but admittedly were without proof as to who was involved.

In addition to seeking the men connected with the attempted gun running, government operatives were searching for 106 machine guns of the original consignment of 600 which had mysteriously disappeared. Three warrants were said to have been issued but were held up by the federal officers without explanation.

AIR CHIEF DROPS FIGHT FOR REMOVAL OF AIDE

Washington—Major General Charles
T. Menoher, chief of the army air service, has withdrawn his request that Brigadier General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, be removed, Secretary of War Weeks announced Friday.

This action was taken at Weeks'
request, the secretary said.

Mayor Of Cork Erin To Fight

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Donald O'Callaghan, Brit-
tain's phantom rebel, arrived overseas
Friday.

O'CALLAGHAN

O'Callaghan, lord
mayor of Cork, who fled the United States after he had been refused political asylum here, made the trip without a passport and via the "underground route" of the Irish.

The announcement of the safe
arrival of the leader of the Irish republican movement was made exclusively at the headquarters of the Irish mission
here.

O'Callaghan arrived in the United States several months ago as a stowaway. The order that he had to leave the country was issued after a bitter fight by Irish sympathizers to allow him to stay. They said he should be allowed to stay here because he was a political enemy of Great Britain and subject to sentence of death if caught.

During his stay here, the 29-year-old Irish rebel stamped the country for the Association for recognition of the Irish Republic.

Whether O'Callaghan arrived in Ireland or on the continent was not divulged. His exact movements are guarded with the utmost secrecy because of the value placed on him by Irish republicans as a leader. Close advisers Friday said O'Callaghan left that he was a doomed man. He left over the protest of many close friends who pointed out he could hide
in the United States for months.

"I am needed over there," his friends quoted him as saying.

"I am not content to do the talking in the United States and let others do
the fighting back home."

FOREIGN TOPICS BARRED BY LABOR

By United Press Leased Wire
Denver, Colo.—The American Federation of Labor Friday considered labor.

Attempts to infuse consideration of outside topics were made by some delegates, but met with little success. The Irish question, prohibition and other subjects brought up were to be laid over for consideration toward the close of the annual convention here.

Unemployment, wage cuts and labor organization had the right of way
in Friday's discussions.

The attitude of the federation toward the injection of foreign topics
was shown in the quick refusal to consider a resolution condemning the Klu Klux Klan. Presented by a delegation of Negroes, the resolution asked that federal and state governments be urged to take action against the Klan
which was called an advocate of mob violence.

Some expression of sympathy for Ireland probably will be made before the end of the convention. Leaders of the movement to force a resolution
through waited eagerly for the promised cablegram from Eamonn De Valera which they believed would help
the cause.

LEAGUE SEEKS AGREEMENT WITH U. S. ON MANDATES

Paris—The league of nations Friday
asked allied powers to reach an agreement with the United States on the Yup and Mesopotamian mandates
before the next meeting of the league
council.

Gaston Dacuna of Brazil, acting for the league, made the request of France, Italy, Great Britain and Japan.

The note emphasized the statement that it is essential for the allies to reach a full understanding with the United States in order that the council may discharge its responsibility in approving the mandates.

The league will not attempt to exercise its mandate functions until the request has been met, Dacuna declared.

NO IMMEDIATE RELIEF FROM SWELTERING HEAT

Friday was generally conceded to be hottest day of the year. At noon
the thermometer in front of Schlar-
f Hardware Co.'s store registered 85 degrees in the shade. A good breeze from the south was blowing, but did not appear to lessen sweltering.

The oppressive heat manifested itself at an early hour in the morning and the temperature continued to rise
all forenoon. So far as known there were no prostrations.

The weather prediction for Saturday
is generally fair and continued warm,
so there is no immediate relief in sight.

The weather man predicted warm weather for Friday and certainly struck the nail on the head. Thursday was considered the hottest day
up to that time.

BELIEVE ROTARY HAS AIDED UNIVERSAL PEACE

Edinburgh, Scotland—Universal
peace has been promoted by the international Rotary convention here, according to American delegates preparing to leave Edinburgh Friday.

INSANITY PLEA IS WOMAN'S DEFENSE

By United Press Leased Wire
Buffalo, N. Y.—Salvatore Calla, 51, who gave his address as 1978 East 126th-st., Cleveland, Ohio, Friday is alleged to have confessed to District Attorney Moore of Erie county, that he was the actual slayer of Daniel F.
Kaber, wealthy Lakewood, Ohio, publisher.

Details of the alleged confession
were not given out.

Cleveland, Ohio—Insanity will be the defense of Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber at her trial for the murder of her husband, Daniel F. Kaber, wealthy Lakewood publisher.

This was the announcement made Friday by Francis W. Poulson, attorney for Mrs. Kaber and her daughter, Marion McBride, who he appeared in common pleas court Friday to ask for a continuance of the trials for the two women. Their trial had been set for June 28. County Prosecutor Stanton said he would oppose the motion for a continuance.

Mrs. Gilligan explained that she worked for Dr. Warren Hildreth who attended Mrs. Sullivan and who had testified previously.

"What do you know about a telegram that was sent the day Guy was born?" she was asked.

"Well, Mrs. Sullivan asked me to send a telegram to Fred Beauvais in Canada."

"What did the telegram say?"

"I don't know what it meant, but
it said 'Black bear arrived.'"

"Was Mr. Stillman at the hospital
the day Guy was born?"

No sir. He wasn't there at any time after Mrs. Sullivan came to the hospital until November 2—the day
after Guy was born. Then he came
on the 9th, 10th and 11th too."

After a few more questions, Still-
man's counsel asked:

"How long did you continue as Mrs.
Sullivan's nurse?"

"Until the middle of January."

Mrs. Gilligan declared that when
Sullivan called at the hospital the day
Guy was born, he did not see the baby,
but that she understood he saw it the
next day.

Cross-examination brought out that Stillman had sent his wife flowers every day at the hospital and after her
return to 270 Park avenue, and that
on Christmas he gave her a large oil
painting entitled "Spring."

Dr. Hugh Russell, who followed
Mrs. Gilligan on the stand, identified several letters Beauvais is alleged to have written to Mrs. Stillman.

He also testified to having seen Still-
man at the hospital.

SAYS PEGGY "SALTED" PART OF JOYCE'S WEALTH

Chicago—Peggy Joyce, pretty folksy girl, was accused in divorce court of "salting" some of the wealth of J.
Stanley Joyce, her third millionaire husband.

Joyce's attorney, Alfred Austrian,
who is combatting Peggy's demand
for $10,000 a month alimony, declared Peggy has some of the Joyce millions in Paris banks and therefore doesn't need any more.

Henri Lefebvre, Paris journalist, will never know how near he came to being lured into marriage by Peggy, Austrian said.

"She had the stage all set to capture Lefebvre after Joyce left for the United States," Austrian said.

"She called Jda M. Smart, her stage aunt," to be ready to come over. When Peggy called for help from her stage aunt, it meant she was after another man."

MRS. ORTHWEIN TO TAKE STAND IN HER DEFENSE

Chicago—Mrs. Cora Orthwein will take the witness stand to defend herself of the charge that she murdered Herbert P. Ziegler, Attorney Ben
Short announced Friday.

Edward Nelson, Ziegler's chauffeur, was recalled to the stand Friday for cross-examination.

He repeated his story that Mrs.
Orthwein had made threats that she would kill Ziegler if he ever left her
to return to his family.

Deo Parsons, broker and pal of Ziegler, was to take the stand late Friday.

"Handsome Jack" Barry, alleged society gambler, will also be called by the state as a witness.

BEAUVAIS TOLD OF GUY'S BIRTH BY CODE WIRE

"Black Bear Arrives" Is Mrs.
Stillman's Message to Canadian Guide.

CHILDREN KNOW OF CODE

Witnesses Declare Stillman Visited Wife in Hospital After Boy Is Born.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—A telegram was sent by Mrs. Stillman to Fred Beauvais on the day Guy Stillman was born, reading:

"Black bear arrived."

This testimony was introduced in the Stillman case Friday by Miss Mary Olive Gilligan, a nurse, who said she wrote the telegram on the request of Mrs. Stillman.

Guy, who was born in New York on Nov. 7, 1918, is alleged to be the son of Mrs. Stillman and Beauvais, a French-
Canadian guide.

The defense expected through cross-examination to show that identical telegram was sent to the other three Stillman children, Anne, Bud and Alexander, and that it was all part of a "game" in which Beauvais was a participant. The words "black bear" it was learned, would be shown as part of a code to inform Beauvais and the children of the baby's sex.

Mrs. Gilligan was the "surprise witness" introduced by Stillman's counsel
Friday.

When the witness took the stand in Reference Gleason's office the following exchange took place:

Q. "Please tell what you know about the birth of the boy, Guy Stillman."

A. "Well, I was Mrs. Stillman's nurse when she went to the women's hospital, shortly before Guy was born and then I was her nurse at 270 Park avenue for a time after she left the hospital."

Mrs. Gilligan explained that she worked for Dr. Warren Hildreth who attended Mrs. Sullivan and who had
testified previously.

"What do you know about a telegram that was sent the day Guy was
born?" she was asked.

"Well, Mrs. Sullivan asked me to send a telegram to Fred Beauvais in Canada."

"What did the telegram say?"

"I don't know what it meant, but
it said 'Black bear arrived.'"

"Was Mr. Stillman at the hospital
the day Guy was born?"

No sir. He wasn't there at any time after Mrs. Sullivan came to the hospital until November 2—the day
after Guy was born. Then he came
on the 9th, 10th and 11th too."

After a few more questions, Still-
man's counsel asked:

"How long did you continue as Mrs.
Sullivan's nurse?"

"Until the middle of January."

Mrs. Gilligan declared that when
Sullivan called at the hospital the day
Guy was born, he did not see the baby,
but that she understood he saw it the
next day.

Cross-examination brought out that Stillman had sent his wife flowers every day at the hospital and after her
return to 270 Park avenue, and that
on Christmas he gave her a large oil
painting entitled "Spring."

Dr. Hugh Russell, who followed
Mrs. Gilligan on the stand, identified
several letters Beauvais is alleged to have written to Mrs. Stillman.

He also testified to having seen Still-
man at the hospital.

WANDERER AND GEARY GET NEW LEASE OF LIFE

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Carl O. Wanderer, convicted of slaying his girl-wife and a "ragged" scoundrel, he hired to stage a fake holdup, was placed on the confined list by eleventh hour action of the supreme court.

Wanderer, who was to be hung
Friday, was granted a reprieve pending a sanity hearing.

Gene Geary, "immune slayer," was also saved. He will be given a sanity hearing also.

RICHEST BRIDE TO HAVE SIMPLE WEDDING

Chicago—The home of the world's richest bride was banked Friday with simple little presents from poor couples she had befriended.

Miss Lolita Armour, daughter of J. Ogden Armour, multi-millionaire packer, is to be married Saturday to John J. Mitchell, Jr.

Miss Armour, herself once a cripple and miraculously saved
by an operation, has devoted her life in rehabilitating others.

Although she can afford the most luxurious wedding money could provide, the ceremony is to be very simple.

"I want my wedding to be a happy one, therefore I will not start out by wasting."

Miss Armour's wedding gown
is a simple little thing of white velvet and quite inexpensive. She is not going to wear any jewels
at the ceremony.

Her trousseau is made up mostly of "left-overs."

Harding And Hughes Work On Plans For World Peace

COMPROMISE IS SOUGHT TO END PEACE DEADLOCK

Senate Leaders Want House to Accept Parts of Knox
Peace Resolution.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—In seeking a graceful way out of the threatened deadlock
over the peace resolution, senate leaders have hit upon the plan of accepting the house provision declaring the war at an end and the existence of a state of peace in place of the senate repudiation of the war declaration. This acceptance is conditioned, however,
upon acceptance by the house of the senate's reservations of American rights in alien property. This is the plan now being "tentatively" considered, according to leaders.

Republican members of the conference committee representing the two bodies met Friday to discuss it. Thus far the plan has not been directly submitted to house conferees, but is being worked up to in a diplomatic way by the senate. There is every reason to believe, senate Republican conferees said Friday, that this or some other agreeable compromise
would reach within a reasonable time. When it is, Democratic conferees will be called in and allowed to vote yes or no as they see fit. The chief idea of the Republicans is to dispel the impression that has gone abroad that house and senate are in jealous wrangle over which shall be predominant in handling this question of foreign relations.

DENBY URGES BIG NAVAL PERSONNEL

House and Senate Fail to Agree to Disarmament and Size of Navy.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Secretary Denby Friday took a hand in the deadlock between the house and senate on the navy appropriation bill.

He wrote Senator Poinderer, acting chairman of the senate naval committee that a personnel of 120,000
men for the navy was essential.

This is the figure contended for by the senate, while the house wanted
only 100,000.

Efforts to force a separate vote in the house on the Borah disarmament amendment to the naval bill, which goes back from a deadlocked conference to the house for further instructions of the conferees, were being made by friends of the proposal.

The disarmament rider had not been reached in conference. Differences over the senate amendment increasing the navy personnel from 100,000 to 120,000 broke up the conference. It is upon this and senate amendments for pacific coast naval base projects that the house conferees will ask further instructions. The request will not be made for several days, Representative Kelly, Michigan, said, as it is desired to see whether the senate conferees "upon reflection"
will back down.

DEMPSEY INVOLVED IN DIVORCE SUIT

By United Press Leased Wire
Pawhuska, Okla.—"Jack Dempsey
of Los Angeles" was named as co-
respondent in the divorce suit of F.
Boulanger, wealthy Osage Indian,
against his wife, Lily, filed the Friday.

Charles Holden, member of the law firm of Peter, Sandek, Holcombe and Holden, attorneys for Boulanger, stated that the "Dempsey" named as co-respondent was the heavyweight champion.

The divorce bill did not identify the co-respondent as the champion.

Jack Dempsey named in the petition is the heavyweight champion of the world," Holden stated.

Boulanger, in his bill, stated he can introduce evidence to show that correspondence passed between "Dempsey" and his wife. These letters form the basis of the court action, according to the wealthy Indian.

Mrs. Boulanger has filed a cross bill denying the allegations and asks a divorce on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

DEBRIS OF WRECK IN KANSAS CLEARED AWAY

Omaha, Neb.—The wreck of three coaches of the Chicago and Northwestern train which plunged through a bridge into Cottonwood creek near Chaldrin, Neb., early Thursday, was cleared away Friday.

Total casualties were five killed and thirty-five injured.

SYLVIA PANKHURST FREED

Many friends greeted Sylvia Pankhurst when she was released from Holloway Jail, London. She served five months as a result of writings that appeared in her Communist paper "Workers' Dreadnought." She is a daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, suffrage pioneer.

Last Tax Boosting Bill Is Killed In Assembly

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison—The mill tax in Wisconsin will continue to carry the burden of the state's expense.

The Dahl tax boosting bill, which would raise $16,000,000 of the state's revenue by increased income taxes,
was defeated in the assembly here
Friday by a vote of 43 to 34.

Attempts to get the measure reconsidered failed.

Attempts to reconsider the vote
by which the lower house passed
the bill making railroad tickets good for thirty days after purchase also failed.

Attention in the senate was centered on the "dry" bill sent from the assembly. The bill now stands as originally submitted by the administration. It was placed on Tuesday's calendar in the upper house.

The English bill providing for conventions of the political parties in each state to which delegates would be elected at a special election in the spring, was voted down in the senate and then revived by a motion to reconsider. The motion will be voted on Tuesday. Before the senate voted on the bill it attached an amendment

from the referendum election at which the state will decide finally on the measure in the fall.

The assembly bill which provided for the concentration of the state conservative commission into one man,
a warden, was killed in the senate.

Senator Skogmo's bill for organization of public service districts whereby municipal owned public utilities
could operate in neighborhoods outside of the city limits, was engrossed,
then passed on third reading, 23 to 7
and sent to the assembly.

A bill repealing the statute which provides that Wisconsin railroad fares
shall not exceed two cents a mile,
now superceded by the interstate commerce commission and railroad commission rulings, was passed and sent to the assembly.

GRILL SUSPECT IN CLEVELAND MURDER

By United Press Leased Wire
Cleveland—County Prosecutor Stanton Friday will grill an east end man who directed Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber to Mrs. Emma Colavito, the fortune teller.

Both women are charged with murder for the slaying of Daniel F. Kaber, wealthy Lakewood publisher, in July, 1919.

"We are convinced this man hasn't told all he knows," said Stanton Friday. Stanton said the man probably will be held as a witness against Mrs.
Kaber and Mrs. Colavito.

Detachments Friday were still out of town on the trail of one of the hired assassins.

Besides two men believed to be the actual assassins of Kaber, two other men are wanted. These men, it is alleged, attempted to extort money from Mrs. Colavito because it is charged Mrs. Kaber had paid only $500 of the $5000 alleged to have been the price for the Kaber murder.

The "women in the case" are all under indictment, while "the men in the case," are still at large.

BRITISH MINERS REJECT LATEST WAGE PROPOSAL

London—British miners have voted to reject new wage offers by mine owners, it was announced officially Friday.

Executives of the miners' union
who submitted the offer to local unions for a referendum continued in session Friday.

SINN FEINERS DESTROY RAIL

MENASHA-NEENAH NEWS

TRIAL OF APPLETON
YOUNG MEN DELAYED

Edward Poetzel and Harry LaFond Secure Continuance Until Next Month.

Neenah. — J. R. Schneller, F. J. Schneller and George Rasmussen were chosen to represent the James P. Hawley post of the American Legion of Neenah at the 1931 state convention of the American Legion to be held at Eau Claire June 28-30.

The annual meeting of the Wisconsin Dairyman's Protective association was held in Neenah Friday June 17. Business sessions were held at the Valley Inn. In the afternoon the visitors were given an automobile ride about the Twin Cities.

Council Tree Review, No. 41 Women's Benefit association of the Lady Macabees will hold a social meeting at the home of Mrs. W. A. Hume, Higgins Ave., Neenah Friday evening.

The Rodpath Chautauqua will be at Neenah July 15 to 20. It will be located on the First ward school grounds.

Miss Elva Hoffman of Chicago, a graduate of the Chicago Physical Culture school, has accepted the position as athletic director at the Young Women's Club at Neenah.

Edward Poetzel and Harry LaFond, both of Appleton, who are charged with having made an assault on William Krieg, Neenah taxi driver, also with the theft of a Hudson automobile valued at $1,000 and operating an automobile without the owner's consent were brought into municipal court in Oshkosh Thursday morning. The jury was to have been drawn Friday but, upon application of the defendant's attorney, Earl P. Finch, the date of trial was set for July 12 and the drawing of the jury July 7.

Applications for marriage licenses have been filed at the county clerk's office by William F. Maech of Appleton and Bertha E. Tumm of Neenah, Roy J. Teal of Neenah and Marie A. Bronson of Omro; L. A. Zacharias of Menasha and Clara Krause of Oshkosh, George Taylor Stanton of Cleveland, O. and Lucy Eleanor Harrison of Neenah.

BOYS SHOWING INTEREST IN CHERRY ORCHARD CAMP

Appleton's camp for cherry pickers is rapidly being filled. E. W. Brandenberg, superintendent of the state cherry pickers camp, was in the city Thursday and he announced that the state camp quota was over half registered.

Applications have been received by J. E. Dennison, of the local Y. M. C. A. from Merrill, Burnhamwood, Niagara and Kaukauna. More than one third of Appleton's quota has been reached which is three weeks ahead of last year's registration record. The quota for this city is 144 boys.

Never was there a better indication of a bumper crop as this summer. The cost of board has been decreased from 60 to 50 cents a day while the rate paid for picked cherries remains the same, allowing the boys to make more money than formerly.

Another meeting of the boys who will attend the camp will be held next Thursday at the Y. M. C. A.

APPLETON YOUNG MAN
WINS SCHOLASTIC HONORS

Lester Abby of Appleton, a member of the 1931 graduating class of Lawrence college has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa fraternity. TALKS EFFICIENCY
IN FORD GARAGES

Fifty Ford salesmen and mechanics connected with Ford distributing branches in this locality held an "efficiency" meeting at the offices of August Brandt Company Thursday night. They were addressed by Joseph Ryan of Detroit who formerly was in the employ of the Ford factory for six years.

Mr. Ryan spoke on sales efficiency and efficiency in the shop. He pointed out that due to present conditions every salesman and every shopman should "do a little extra" wherever possible. He said this could be done by planning the work carefully and saving every possible minute on each job.

He gave salesmen hints as to how they could get more orders and advised even the merchants to become Ford salesmen when they were outside the shop. He said many ambitious mechanics had sold a large number of cars by picking up orders in off hours.

After Canada Thistles

Farmers throughout this part of the county are busy cutting Canada thistles to prevent them from going to seed. The work is going on rapidly and on nearly every farm every member of the household is doing his part. The crop of this pest this year is reported to be the biggest in the history of the county and farmers are aroused over the necessity of preventing the thistle from going to seed.

HE SOON SAW BIG CHANGE IN WIFE

Marshall Man Tells of Wife's Troubles and How They Were Entirely Overcome

"If I ever need a medicine Tanlac is what I'll take, for I'm convinced from what it has done for my wife that it can't be equalled," said Frank McMurtrie, 335 N. Mulberry St., Marshall, Mich., well-known butcher of the Sanitary Market.

"My wife had been in poor health for a year or more," he said, "suffering from indigestion and liver trouble. She complained of a hurting in her stomach all the time and never ate much of anything. At night she couldn't sleep well and of morning always got up with an awful headache. She lost weight and became so weak she would give out trying to do her housework and had to stop every little while all through the day and sit down and rest.

"But I saw a change for the better by the time she finished her second bottle of Tanlac. She could eat anything I could and the housework did not tire her out and she seemed to take a new interest in everything. And now she is looking fine, has been built up in every way and is in the best of health. I believe she has told everybody we know about Tanlac, and I always join in with a good word myself."

LOST IN APPLETON AFTER HALF CENTURY

Former Resident Doesn't Recognize City After Absence of 45 Years.

"I have been all over the city and there is not a person, building or street I can recognize," said Charles Schewe of Caroline, Wis., who is visiting Appleton after an absence of 45 years.

"I came here when I was 16 years old and worked for William Smith, undersheriff, at the time John Brill of Buchanan was sheriff. My week days were spent at the county jail and courthouse and Sundays at Mr. Smith's farm in the town of Greenville.

"Both the courthouse and jail have been replaced with new buildings since that time and the city has grown so much that I am confused on visiting the business district or waterpower. I have inquired for several friends, but find they are all dead."

The only thing that Mr. Schewe has recognized since arriving in the city is a picture of John Brill, the former sheriff, in the office of the Northwestern hotel. He recognized it the moment he saw it and recalled an incident when the sheriff was knocked down when he went to quell a fight at the old Turner hall. Upon regaining his feet the officer immediately placed his assailant under arrest.

Mr. Schewe recalled another instance where a stranger was placed in the county jail for lack of sufficient wearing apparel. "He was one of the finest singers I ever heard," said Mr. Schewe, "and soon attracted a crowd outside. After rendering several selections he could not be induced to sing any more, not even for money, and no one ever learned his name. He was evidently a person that had seen better days."

LANGENBERG ELECTED AT FORESTER MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Langenberg and Gustave Keller returned Thursday from Two Rivers, where they attended the state convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters. Mr. Langenberg was elected one of 31 Wisconsin delegates to attend the international summer convention of the order in Milwaukee in August, which will be attended by representatives of 29 American states and 8 Canadian provinces. R. H. McCarty Kaukauna, also was selected a delegate.

Mr. Keller delivered an address at the Tuesday evening session, telling the Foresters to have faith in American institutions and the American government and to study so they will know more about both. The convention drew a large attendance and was highly successful.

TWO APPLETON MEN SEE PUEBLO FLOOD

George Peotter Has Narrow Escape When Rushing Waters Destroy Restaurant.

At least two Appleton people saw the big Colorado flood at close range. One is George Peotter of 982 North Division st., who lost his job in the swollen waters of the South Platte and the other is John Kohl, Sr., of 1187 Packard st.

Peotter was employed in a Pueblo restaurant and was at work when the flood came. The water quickly filled the street and entered every opening in the buildings and the restaurant workers saw that only immediate action would save them. Grasping their belongings, they faced the flood and started in the direction of the heights. They had hardly reached a safe place when a huge volume of water rushed down the street they had just left, submerging the buildings and tearing many of them from their foundation. The restaurant was among the doomed buildings.

Besides losing his job, the Appleton boy lost $53 in cash. The proprietor of the restaurant came near drowning when he was overcome by the swirling waters but those nearest assisted him to safety. Peotter is now visiting at his home here.

Dams are Intact
John Kohl, Sr., left Appleton June 1 and was visiting his daughter Mrs. Harry Wyatt at Greeley, Col., when the flood swept Pueblo. Mr. Kohl contradicts the assertion that the flood was caused by bursting dams. He said it was due to two cloudbursts, one following closely on the other. The false report, Mr. Kohl said, was given out by a government aviator who was sent out to ascertain conditions in the flooded area. The report was denied by the government station in Denver the next day.

Although not within the flooded district, Mr. Kohl saw much of the damage. Fields of fine growing crops were swept away and in their place was a deep deposit of slimy mud. Only the handles of plows, and cultivators could be seen sticking out of the mud and here and there, farm animals were buried in it.

Many automobile tourists, Mr. Kohl said, were caught in the flood and this swelled the mortality list. From Greeley, the first ranges of the Rockies are visible and Mr. Kohl said their peaks were still glistening with snow before the heavy rains came. He believes the flood was due to the sudden melting of the snow and not to the breaking of dams.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Bellow of Oconto visited Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bellow, Sr. State-st. The latter Mr. Bellow is convalescing rapidly from serious illness.

ACTION THAT SHOULD BE RESCINDED

The average salary of rural school teachers throughout the United States is less than $1,000 per year. We do not know what it is in Outagamie county, but we will venture an estimate that it does not greatly exceed this amount—we doubt if it is as much as $1,200. Whatever it is, it is not enough. The entire country has gone through a period of educational readjustment in the last two years, necessitated by the single fact that teachers were notoriously underpaid and were leaving the profession in such numbers as to threaten the serious impairment of our common schools.

Practically every city and county has had to face the problem of saving its schools from retrogression by increasing salary allowances. These increases were not made primarily because living costs had increased. This may have been one of the forces which operated to compel the payment of better salaries, but it was not all. The public was brought to a realization of the fact that the teaching profession was underpaid, based upon pre-war prices. Teachers were turning by the wholesale to other vocations out of sheer inability to make both ends meet on the remuneration they were receiving. There was neither benent nor future in the work in which they were engaged.

The result of this condition was a general decline in teaching and school standards. The best teachers left poorly paid positions for either better ones or for entirely new field of activity. Many schools were left with a large percentage of incompetent or partially competent teachers. New teachers are not being prepared in sufficient numbers to meet the deficit. The situation is still anything but encouraging to the cause of education.

The neglect of education, through underpayment of teachers and other false economies, has extended over a long period. Its effects were visited most severely upon the rural schools, where the salaries were lowest and the last to respond to the pressure for advancement. Not only that, but the disparity between school facilities and advantages in the country and city constitutes in itself a problem demanding the serious and conscientious attention of county and district authorities. Any increases in salary made during the last two years represent only a partial acknowledgment of the needs of the schools themselves and of the rights of teachers to something more than bare subsistence. Instead of lowering salaries, we should continue to increase them. They say the salary they are now receiving is not enough to induce young men and young women to enter the profession and devote their lives to it. They cannot live and lay by a competence for the future. The time and money they expend in preparation should earn far more than they receive. It neither dignifies nor strengthens, but rather undermines, the profession.

The great need of the country today is better schools, and better paid teachers to produce them. We are spending far too little on education. Americanization alone demands this policy. We had its proof during the war. Outagamie county cannot afford to lower the salaries of any teachers. It can least of all afford to cheapen the schools in the country. The reduction of twenty per cent in salaries is a grave mistake. It ought to be rescinded. The county would gain a great deal more by increasing salaries, and this is what it should do.

Within a year a world congress of women leaders in commerce, finance, agriculture, industry, education and government will be held in either Washington, Geneva or The Hague. This announcement has been made by Mrs. Katherine (Jemmons) Gould, president of the Woman's International Chamber of Commerce. The congress promises to be one of the milestones in the rapid progress which the women of the world have made during the past half dozen years in realizing their ambition to achieve a real place in the sun.

We can imagine nothing that would be more potent in furthering the cause of a better understanding among nations, leading eventually to world peace, than annual conferences of the world's leading women. Whatever the immediate object of bringing them together, this would surely become the final great objective.

AMERICAN IDEALS

In his famous presentation, or rather misrepresentation, of American policy to a London audience Ambassador Harvey, speaking derisively of our national ideals said:

We do not resent being called idealists, even as sometimes happens, by those who anticipate a reward for extending our altruism, but we have come to realize quite sharply during the last few years referring to the war that ideals only too often resolve into illusions, and illusions we have found to be both dangerous and profitless.

Following this tribute to the mercenary spirit of America, the ambassador, emboldened by the opportunity to give vent to his political resentment, said concerning American motives in the war:

Far more prevalent until recently was the impression—and this was and still is in a measure smothered—that we went into the war to rescue humanity from all kinds of menacing perils. Not a few remain convinced that we sent our young men and women to save the world from France and Italy. This is not the fact. We sent them to save the United States of America, and most reluctantly and begrudgingly. . . . That is the real truth of the matter, and so we came along toward the end and helped you and your allies to shorten the war. That is all we did and all we claim to have done.

Ten days after this lofty exposition of American war aims, President Harding found occasion to repudiate it to a body of Virginians when he said:

America fought to preserve the rights of the republic and to maintain the civilization which we had such a part in making, and in that service we have rendered tribute not only to that cause, but also to the highest ideals of humanity.

The day following, speaking at Arlington cemetery, the president referred to the World war as "the war for humanity's sake," and counseled "no selfishness, no little Americanism." In the same speech he said:

We cannot evade if we would, for mankind has fallen on times when there is no hope for it if some communities seek isolation while others indulge unrestrained ambition for empire. Civilization must face disaster if there shall be denial either of common responsibility, or of essential equality among sovereign states and persons.

And now comes Secretary of State Hughes in his address to the alumni of Brown university and says of our part in the World war:

It was America, the exemplar of free institutions, leading humanity in their preservation, that called for the supreme endeavor. This sentiment is still with us and after all, despite the need of correct analysis and cool judgment in working out our economic problems, it is the aspiration of our people and their attachment to the conceptions of a well ordered liberty which constitute our security in peace as they proved to be the inexhaustible source of national power in war.

When Mr. Harvey has read and digested these dignified and exalted utterances of the president and secretary of state he may conclude that after all America has ideals, that its ideals are not "profitless," and that it sent its sons across the seas for a larger and greater purpose than to save its own skin. Perhaps he may even gather that this purpose had something to do with "humanity" and "civilization." Possibly, too, he may feel a little shame at his own cheap and scurrilous prattle.

ESPECIALLY NOW

You will find them in the mountains, and you'll see them at the shore. At Niagara you'll meet them by the dozen and the score.

With the newest sort of raiment and that highly conscious air Which betrays their state of being to the people everywhere;

From the chilly northern pinelands to the tropics' bud and bloom You will always find examples of the Brideangroom!

Oh, their trunks and bags are shiny, and their eyes shine, too. And they're in a golden glamor with their dreams come true;

And however porters chuckle or hotel clerks slyly grin, There's a state of bliss ecstatic that it's lovely to be in;

They are young and they are Beauty—they are Love still glad In an age gone by, in a world gone mad; They are Memory that thrill us, they are Hope new-born—

For they mock all doubters and they flout all scorn; And our smiles grow tender—and each heart makes room For a thrill of gladness for a Brideangroom!

Jefferson county has sent 106 students, including 28 women and 78 men, to the University of Wisconsin this year.

HARD WATER AND SOFT ARTERIES

One of the popular myths is that drinking water which is very hard, by reason of a high calcium or lime content, is a factor of premature hardening of the arteries. An exceptionally hard drinking water contains as much as three or four grains of lime in a gallon. Few persons drink more than a gallon of water a day. Everybody who takes at least one square meal a day takes several times as much lime as a gallon of the hardest drinkable water would contain, in the form of such lime-rich foods as milk, cheese, eggs, cabbage, turnips, prunes, oranges, beans, oatmeal, peanuts, almonds, chocolate, carrots and other cereals, fruits and vegetables.

Even though it may be true that calcium or lime salts are deposited in the wall of the artery in the late or advanced stage of arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries, that should not be misapprehended. It is rather a secondary occurrence and not a primary one. If there is any fault in the calcium or lime intake of the ordinary civilized man it is rather a deficiency of lime in his food and drink. In certain instances there may be good reason for avoiding the drinking of hard water and using distilled water or other soft water instead, but only when the patient's physician deems it necessary. As a general rule, no matter how hard the water may be or how much lime it may contain, we need not worry about any fancied ill effects from drinking it freely.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Mouth Wash
What would you recommend as a simple mouth wash for general toilet use in the home? (C. D. H.)
ANSWER—A mixture of one ounce of lime water with fifteen ounces of normal or physiological salt solution (level tablespoonful of common salt in the pint of boiled, preferably distilled or rain water).

The Management of Club Foot
Our baby, now two months old, was born with club foot. We have had the baby under the family doctor's care since birth, but we are anxious to have the child examined by a specialist in this particular condition. We would thank you to kindly advise us regarding any specialist or institution in New York or Brooklyn where we could go. (B. S. E.)

ANSWER—I should be glad to suggest a competent orthopedic surgeon by mail. You will find that your physician will be agreeable and perhaps glad to have the counsel of such a specialist. Since the best results are obtained through the cooperation of the specialist and the family physician, it would be well to ask your family physician to call in or recommend the best orthopedic surgeon. Usually some form of rigid mechanical appliance is necessary for the treatment after the child is two months old.

Sulphur and Cream of Tartar
Are sulphur and cream of tartar taken as medicine in any way injurious to a person? (P. L.)
ANSWER—Sulphur is a laxative but has no effect on the blood. Cream of tartar is a diuretic (increases urine excretion), sometimes used when the urine is thick and alkaline. As usually taken neither medicine is injurious—that is, if not continued more than a few weeks.

Spooning
Just what do you mean by "spooning"? I am of the opinion that you would have difficulty finding many couples that are together often and over some period of time, but what do more or less occur and embracing. What do you think of black pepper and vinegar as foods, or for use in the diet? (Cordially and fraternally, M. J. D. D. S.)
ANSWER—Spoon-feeding and embracing constitute spooning in the first degree. Of course a formally engaged couple will spoon more or less if mother doesn't place reasonable restraints on the young 'uns, but what I was referring to, in the discussion of spooning as an evil, was the fatal mistake so many unwise girls make of permitting such familiarities at the hands of male friends. Black pepper is a food and not even a necessary condiment. Vinegar is dilute acetic acid, a poison; the craving for sour is better gratified with lemon juice, which is citric acid, not a poison, but a food.

Let Us Sing

By Frederic J. Haslink

Washington, D. C. — Lift up your voice in song! This advice is now being widely distributed throughout the country by musical experts, and has gone so far that a bill has even been introduced in Congress to compel Congressmen to sing.

The time may come when a candidate for the Senate will put forward as one of his qualifications that he is a basso profundo of the first order; when, at the conclusion of a debate on the farm credit bill, the agricultural bloc in the Senate will rise and sing in chorus "The Old Oaken Bucket" or some other affecting rural ditty.

But Congress is only a sample of the country at large in its indifference to music, according to the experts, and the reason we listen too much and do not sing and play enough. The so-called musiclover who can make no music himself is a myth. If a man really loves music he will learn something about it, and if he learns something about it he will very likely come to appreciate it. But the thousands who attend concerts in a state of complete musical ignorance, while they may get something out of it, are not realizing the joys and benefits of music as much as the colored lady who sings a hymn to the rhythm of her genuflections before the washboard.

One of the foremost of these propagandists for personal participation in music is Mr. Robert Lawrence who recently conducted a municipal Music Week in Washington and who plans to go all over the country preaching the gospel of homemade melody.

Inducing the People to Sing
Americans do not sing, he says, and yet Americans like to sing. Mr. Lawrence experimented with this proposition and hit upon a solution. The thing to do was to get them together and offer them good music free and give them a chance to sing too. He tried it and it worked. People who could not come out merely to indulge in an orgy of community singing came to hear the artists on the program. Others who were a trifle bored by some of the heavier numbers woke up and enjoyed themselves when the audience was taught to sing "Old MacDonald Had a Farm" with variations. And, through listening to good music and trying to make a little themselves, the tastes of the people broadened.

The psychology of it is interesting. A golfer will read anything about golf, a favorite game. The trap artists will have been keen appreciation when a fellow expert performs. An audience that has just been singing "Swanee River" is in a better frame of mind to enjoy a professional rendition of the sextette from "Lucia." The more we know about a thing the more capacity we have for appreciation.

The success of the combination concert and singing programs showed that people can be easily interested in singing. With a live-wire song leader, a popular selection of songs, and enough people singing around them, few people fail to tune up and join in the chorus.

Once we abandon our ultra conservative attitude, our audience habit, we can begin to get real joy out of music. Mr. Lawrence promises, and the capacity for appreciating good music will grow.

"In Naples," he says, "longshoremen loading ships have been heard singing 'Faust.' One man up in the stern would take the part of Mephistopheles, another near by chiming in another role, and others singing choruses at the proper time. In Wales, factory workmen gather outside of their shops at noon and sing choruses from Handel's 'Messiah'—just because they enjoy it.

"To advance the cause of good music here we must attack the proposition from a reasonable standpoint. 'Bubbles' may not be a classic, but you can start an audience singing it when you could not expect it to attempt an operatic selection. Gradual-

The process has already begun. Almost every day some one stuffs a lyric into Mr. Lawrence's hand or his pocket when he is conducting a Music Week event. He has received as many as 500 songs in a short time. Most of them are crude; few are worthy of being sung. But they are a hopeful beginning toward a musical America.

Mr. Lawrence believes that an awakening interest in musical expression will lead to the development of folk music for America. We are young as a nation, and have no folk songs except perhaps some negro dialect songs. There is no group of songs expressing the emotions—the loves, sorrows, national hopes, and war spirit—of the American people. But when people take to singing their own songs, and there is encouragement for the composer to produce something. Singing makes people unobtrusive their emotions, and that too stimulates the creative impulse.

Wedding At Kimberly

A pretty church wedding took place at 8 o'clock Thursday morning in Holy Name church, Kimberly, when Miss Anna Audenboven, daughter of Peter Audenboven, became the bride of Jacob Lamers, son of George Lamers, route 6, Appleton.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette crepe trimmed with pearls with a veil fashioned with a coronet of pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and snap dragons. She was attended by Miss Emma Lamers who wore a dress of pink organdy with a picture hat to match and carried pink and white carnations.

Little Susan Lamers, wearing a white organdy dress, strewn flowers in the pathway of the bride and little Anthony Audenboven acted as ring bearer. Peter Lamers attended the groom.

A wedding breakfast was served to about 100 guests at the home of the bride's parents, which was decorated with ferns and carnations. The young people will live in Appleton.

123 ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP HERE

Four Men Denied Citizenship Because They Claimed Exemption From Draft.

Citizenship was granted 123 applicants at the hearing on naturalization before Judge E. V. Werner Thursday. Hearings began at 10 o'clock in the morning and at noon the court adjourned until 2 o'clock. Eight applicants were denied citizenship.

Of the applications denied, five were refused because of alleged display of the hyphen during the war. Johan Gever of Kaukauna, Henry DerKindern of Kimberly, Leonard Coppeus of Little Chute and Louis Blinder of Appleton were refused citizenship because they claimed exemption from the draft on the grounds that they were not citizens.

The hearing on the application of John Brumm of the Fourth ward, Appleton, was continued until the November term because complaints were made of alleged unpatriotic conduct during the war. He was placed on probation until November.

Three petitions were denied because the applicants could not prove five years' residence in the United States. They were Otto Grimm, of Kaukauna and Arnold and Peter Smutz of Kimberly. Anton Peten of Kimberly asked dismissal so that he could file papers in New York. Two petitioners, John Lawrenz of New London and Martin Ziemer of Appleton, died after filing petitions.

The previous nationality of the new citizens and the number of each is as follows: German, 92; Hollanders, 12; Austrian, 10; Czechoslovak, 3; Canadian, 2; Russian, 1; Polish, 1.

CORBETT HONORED AT SECRETARIES' MEETING

Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the chamber of commerce, was elected assistant secretary of the Wisconsin Association of Commercial Secretaries at the annual convention which just closed in Oshkosh. He also was named advisory member of the board of directors.

The Appleton man was nominated for secretary but declined, saying he would be willing to assist any man who might be chosen for the office. D. A. Caldwell, Marshfield, therefore was chosen and Mr. Corbett named his assistant. Mr. Caldwell is to move to Wausau soon to take charge of the chamber of commerce there. Other officers elected were Don E. Mowry, Madison, president; M. T. Jacobs, Beloit, vice president, and Lee J. Yorkson, Waupaca, treasurer.

A new constitution and bylaws was adopted by the association, including a provision which divides the state into five districts. This was done so group conferences could be held occasionally among secretaries near one another. A general meeting of Wisconsin men is to be called about November 15 to consider a state chamber of commerce.

Leo Kische of New London, who is teaching in North Dakota, is spending a few days visiting relatives in Appleton. He will return to North Dakota Saturday.

ASK SHERIFF TO CURB MACKVILLE ROAD DRIVERS

Young men who use the town of Center roads for joy riding and the concrete highways for racetracks nights may find themselves stopped by the sheriff some evening. Several drivers endangered the lives of motorists using the roads Thursday night, when they speeded their machines along the left side of the road. These reckless drivers made no move to take the right side when passing other machines, and forced one farmer and his family to run into a ditch. Farmers are up in arms over the matter and expect to take it to county authorities.

SATURDAY GAMES WILL DECIDE LEAGUE WINNER

Considerable interest is apparent in the Saturday schedule of the Inter-factory baseball league inasmuch as it will practically determine the winner of the cup. The big game is between Combined Locks and Interlake at 3:30 on Interlake park. Neither team has lost a game and both have defeated nearly every other team in the league. G. H. Packard will umpire the game.

The remainder of the Saturday schedule is as follows: Appleton Woolen Mill vs. Northern Boiler Works; Appleton Coated Paper Co. vs. Fox River at Brandt park; Kimberly vs. Valley Iron Works at 3:30 on Brandt park.

Charles Ehke has returned from Oshkosh, where he visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Luedeke.

KAUKAUNA NEWS

Melvin Trams Telephone 329-J
Kaukauna RepresentativeSTART AGITATION
FOR NEW CITY PARKWant City to Buy Property on South Side—Clearing Site
for City Building.

Kaukauna.—Kaukauna needs and must have a city park. It is the cry which is now being raised by the progressive citizens of Kaukauna. Eden park, along the river on the south side, has been suggested as an ideal place and agitation for its purchase by the city has been started.

A number of years ago the city council authorized the purchase of a park site along the north side of the river. The land was purchased, but nothing was done with it. In fact, few people even remembered that the city was in possession of a piece of land from which a park could be made.

According to those in favor of Eden park as a city park, it is just away from the business section and is not too far removed from the most beautiful spots in the Fox river valley and a well made and equipped park would be a source of envy to every city in the state.

Boy Scout Meeting
All boys who wish to join troop of the Kaukauna Boy Scouts will attend a big rally meeting of the organization at 7 o'clock Friday evening in the vocational school. Definite steps toward the perfection of an organization will be taken.

City Will Build
The city has taken the responsibility of constructing the municipal building into its own hands since it rejected the bids which were submitted last week. Workmen stated Wednesday cutting down the trees on the site of the building and construction undoubtedly will be started as soon as the land is cleared.

New Baseball Player
Art Thompson of Milwaukee will occupy center field for the league team in the game Sunday against Menasha. Word was received from "Smookey" Schmidt that Kanitz would be unable to play for some time because of eye trouble. The Kaukauna management has been assured that the new man can fill the bill as well as Kanitz and his hitting probably will be better.

Kaukauna Personalities
Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Thompson and Miss Marcella Thompson autographed to Neenah Sunday. From there they autographed to Manitowish, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Hoolihan returned Wednesday evening from Neillville and Minneapolis.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lapin were visitors at Manitowish Tuesday and Wednesday.
Mrs. John and her daughter, Virginia of Green Bay is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Glenzer.

CHINESE RELIEF
CAMPAIGN CLOSES

Conditions in the famine district in China have improved considerably because of rains earlier than expected, with the result that the campaign for funds is to terminate for the present. George F. Werner, city chairman of the relief work, is urging all persons or organizations having funds in their possession to turn them over to their ward chairmen, to W. A. Strassberger, treasurer, at the First National bank, or to himself.

Funds already raised must be turned in to the national committee at once if they are to do any good. Mr. Werner says, so he expects to have all local contributions collected at the earliest possible date. Public announcement of the amount raised in Appleton will be made soon.

Chinese people themselves have contributed liberally to the relief of their stricken people, and this, together with the arrival of rains to save the crops, caused the campaign to terminate now instead of being continued all summer, as anticipated. American cities have saved many lives through their donations.

USE BOND INTEREST FOR MORE U. S. SECURITIES

Making the thrifty more thrifty is the basis of a new savings plan received by Postmaster Gustave Keller from the treasury department, Washington. Owners of Liberty bonds are urged to buy treasury savings securities with the coupons clipped each time the interest falls due.

On June 15 $42,000,000 was paid to holders of first Liberty bonds and Victory notes in the seventh federal reserve district, the department points out. This is the semi-annual interest on bonds totalling $1,129,242,500. Holders of large blocks of securities are taking advantage of the low market rate on liberty bonds and purchasing more of the United States bonds with their interest coupons.

Every coupon clipper has the same opportunity, for he may purchase treasury securities in denominations from 25 cents to $1,000. The $5 stamp and the $25, $100 and $1,000 certificates yield 4 per cent compounded quarterly. This makes it possible for the holders of only $50 or $100 bonds to wisely invest their interest money.

Wenzel Hassman was at Oshkosh Friday attending a meeting of the supreme council of the Fraternal Reserve association.

LOCAL TRACTOR COMPANY
IN NATIONAL COMPETITION

The Fox River Tractor Co. has decided to send one of its tractors to the demonstration to be given at Fargo, N. D., June 28, 29 and 30. The tractor will be shipped by rail within the next few days. Among those of the company who will attend the demonstration are Frank Saiberlich, Raymond and Erwin Saiberlich and Albert Albrecht. They will make the trip by automobile.

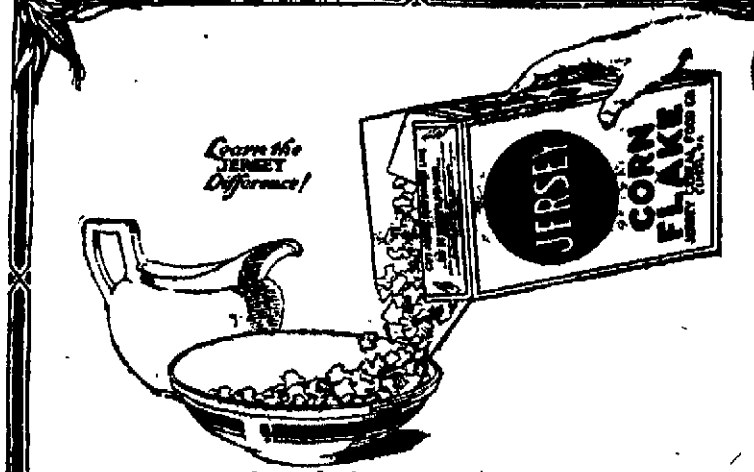

Over 100 different makes of tractors from all over the United States will be entered in the contest which is to be between horses and tractors in field work to determine which is the most economical.

Miss Leah Wildhagen who has been teaching at Richland Center has returned to her home in this city.

EXTEND WASHINGTON ST.
TO STOCK FAIR GROUNDS

The gap at west end of Washington-st. which the city has been filling in for a decade is now closed and the street opened to traffic. The west end of the street opens into the fair grounds and the opening of the thoroughfare makes a short cut for north Appleton-st. traffic destined for west College-ave. The opening was made possible by earth from the site of Lutheran Aid association building.

Annual Equity Picnic
The locals represented in the Outagamie Equity Exchange will hold their annual picnic in Mackville park five miles north of Appleton, Tuesday, June 24. Lunch will be served on the grounds and there will be dancing afternoon and evening. Music will be furnished by Stecker Bros. orchestra.

THIS COUNTY WILL HAVE BIG YIELD OF OATS AND BARLEY

Wheat Acreage Shows Slump This Year But Average Production Appears Large.

Oat and barley crops in Outagamie county will exceed those of almost every county in this locality and will be well up to the average for the last five years, according to estimates compiled by Joseph A. Becker of the Wisconsin Cooperative Crop Reporting Service. There also will be a large yield of wheat, rye and hay, the reports show. Outagamie county's oat crop is 98 per cent of normal this year. The average for the last five years was 93 per cent of normal, indicating that the yield will be heavy. It will excel all

HIGHWAY MAPS SHOW CONDITION OF STATE ROADS

State Highway Commission Inaugurates Service to Help Auto Tourists.

Through a unique service inaugurated by the Wisconsin Highway Commission, autoists need no longer cope with the uncertainty of road conditions when planning tours. Each week the commission will issue a new blueprint map on which the status of every state trunk highway will be shown. The map will indicate what roads are under construction, all detours, roads not in use, and shows the type of surfacing of every stretch of highway. The first map of the series has been

No Changes In Names Reported Here In Years

There is something in a name. At least Outagamie people think so because Register of Deeds A. G. Koch has never been called upon to record a change of name. He believes no names have been changed in this county for years, that is, legally changed and recorded. Changing a name is a simple matter and the fact that none of Outagamie county people have done so for a long time shows how highly each respects the name he bears. All that is necessary to legally change a name is to execute an affidavit setting forth the reasons for desiring a change, giving both the old and new names, and then filing the affidavit with the register of deeds.

While a person may change his name at his own volition he is not permitted to conduct business or execute legal instruments with a name other than his legal name which was given him at birth.

VACATION SCHOOL OPENS ON MONDAY

The Church Vacation school will begin at 9 o'clock Monday morning at the Y. M. C. A. All children of the city between the ages of 6 and 15 are eligible. Registration cards will be distributed in the various churches Sunday morning but children who do not register then may do so Monday morning at the Y. M. C. A.

The teaching staff consists of Mrs. A. L. McMillan, director; Margaret Bond, music; Russel Hayton, piano; Elizabeth Bond, beginners; Martha Hoffman, primary; Margaret Bond, junior; Edith Clark, intermediate; John Schuler, manual training; Mrs. Jarvis, Margaret Nicholson, Alara Vaughn and Cordell Stammer, assistants.

A series of health talks will be given during the course by Miss Van Slyke of the Red Cross, and W. S. Ford of the Vocational school will give talks on habits.

Confirmation Sunday
A class of seven young people will be confirmed at the 9 o'clock service Sunday morning in Zion Lutheran church by the Rev. Theodore Marth. The members of the class are Loretta Schulz, Florence Snyder, John Dobe, Lucile and Mabel Koerner, Lawrence Zwicker and Mervin Gensler.

KISS DISPOSES OF BUSINESS HERE

An important business change occurred Wednesday when A. L. Kiss sold his ready-to-wear and millinery business at 760 College-ave. to the Model Garment shop company, which has stores in Milwaukee, Beaver Dam and Stevens Point. Mr. Kaufman of the Stevens Point store, will arrive here early next week to take charge as manager. The store will be closed for about a week so the stock can be inventoried. The new owners then intend to dispose of the goods on hand and remodel the interior.

Mr. Kiss retains his fur business but has no definite plans for the future. It is possible that he may seek a location elsewhere for an exclusive fur business. He has conducted the present establishment for a number of years.

Jerry Herschleb of Milwaukee, is in Appleton on business.

other counties in the eastern district of Wisconsin, where the average condition is 92.7 per cent of normal. Barley is 97 per cent of normal, compared with the 5-year average of 94 per cent and the district average for this year of 90.2 per cent.

Spring wheat falls 5 per cent below the 5-year average, with the crop 88 per cent of normal and winter wheat 88 per cent of normal. The average for this locality is 93.8 per cent of normal for spring wheat and 87.1 per cent for winter wheat.

Rye will be 96 per cent of normal, 7 points above the 5-year average; hay fell down 5 points and is reported 85 per cent of normal. Clover is 86 per cent, or 7 per cent below the 5-year average. Pastureage is 92 per cent, as compared to the average of 88 per cent.

The area planted to grains in Wisconsin this spring totaled 3,189,000 acres, or 1 per cent greater than in 1920 and 3 per cent above the 5-year average. Oats is the only small grain showing an increase; all others show a decrease. Total production of small grains in 1921 is forecasted at 128,869,000 bushels, compared to 136,719,000 produced in 1920 and a 5-year average of 126,344,000 bushels. A review of received here and a copy has been posted at Kunitz livery for the use of the public. New maps will be received each week. Information not obtainable from the chart may be had by telephoning the division engineer's office, Nicolet building, Green Bay, No. 1883.

Shading and cross lines show at a glance whether a road is surfaced with concrete, or whether sandy, of sand, clay or loam, or of heavy clay. Cities having tourist campsites are marked with a star. Division engineer offices are indicated by a white circle.

There is hardly a county where there is no construction work indicated on some of its highways, the map shows. Some of these roads are open to traffic, marked on the chart showing the condition of the highway. Detours also are frequent. A study of the map indicates that the best route to Milwaukee is to take No. 55 from Fond du Lac to West Bend, then turn east on 68, following it to Saukville. Here the driver may turn to route No. 57 and ride the rest of the way to Milwaukee.

Surfacing marks indicate that every state highway in the vicinity of Appleton is either of concrete or of other

some of the more important crop conditions in Wisconsin follows. Spring Wheat—Acreage of spring wheat was again nearly cut in half. Area in 1921 is estimated at 150,000 acres, compared to 250,000 in 1920 and a 5-year average of 240,000 acres. This indicates that acreage of this crop will soon be reduced to practically the pre-war average of slightly over 100,000 acres. Production is forecasted at 2,691,000 bushels, compared to 3,159,000 in 1920 and a 5-year average of 4,402,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 93 per cent compared to 90 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 92 per cent.

Oats—Acreage sown to oats in 1921 is the largest ever planted, or 2,522,000 acres, 6 per cent more than in 1920 when 2,405,000 acres were sown, and 24,000 acres greater than the previous record of 2,528,000 acres in 1905. Five-year average acreage is 2,253,000 acres. Forecast of production is 101,825,000 bushels, compared to 107,906,000 produced in 1920 and a 5-year average of 93,456,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 95 per cent of normal, compared to 93 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 94 per cent.

Barley—Acreage of barley decreased 3% since a year ago. A majority of northern counties show a substantial gain, but the southern and eastern counties have further decreased the acreage of this crop. Area is 437,000 acres, compared to 502,000 in 1920 and a 5-year average of 596,000 acres. Forecasted production is 15,107,000 bushels, compared to 15,930,000 in 1920 and a 5-year average of 19,162,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 94 per cent, compared to 92 per cent last year and a 10-year average of 93 per cent. Winter Wheat—Production of winter wheat is now forecasted at 1,622,000 bushels, compared to 1,600,000 on May 1, 2,002,000 produced in 1920 and a 5-year average of 1,754,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 86 per cent, compared to 86 per cent on May 1. 89 per cent a year ago and a 10-year average of 86 per cent.

United States—The United States winter wheat crop is forecasted at 578,196,000 bushels, compared to 629,287,000 on May 1. 577,763,000 bushels produced in 1920 and a 5-year average of 572,400,000 bushels. Condition on June 1 was 77.9 per cent compared to 88.8 per cent on May 1 78.2 per cent a year ago and a 10-year average of 81.8 per cent.

Rye—Condition of rye declined from 91 per cent on May 1 to 90 per cent on June 1, compared to 89 per cent a year ago and a 10-year average of 90 per cent. Production is now forecasted at 7,624,000 bushels, compared to 7,513,000 on May 1. 7,723,000 bushels produced in 1920 and a 5-year average of 7,564,000 bushels.

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

Thousands and thousands of people, says Peterson of Buffalo, are learning every week that one 35 cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money. "I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the agony. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson, for the cure is great." Miss Mary Hill, 429 Third Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. # MURPHY IS APPOINTED MANAGER OF BRANDT BALL TEAM

OUTFIELDER TO TAKE CHARGE OF CLUB ON SUNDAY

Spies Will Continue With Team. Expect Mike to Lead Club to Pennant.

Mike Murphy, right fielder on the Brandt team and a veteran of many diamond battles, has been appointed manager of the Brandt team. It was announced Friday by Owner August Brandt. He will succeed Oscar Spies who has given up reins because he will in Appleton only on Sundays. Spies will continue to play shortstop for the local club. The change is to take effect next Sunday.

It is believed the club will show more life with a resident manager who will be in a position to take charge of practice during the week. The players all realize the need of getting out on the diamond two or three times each week in order to improve their speed and batting eyes.

Murphy probably knows as much about baseball as any man in the state. He has played for years and is a keen student of the game. Mike also is a fighter who is on going as long as there is a chance left. Much is expected of him. A Puffed up with confidence and enthusiasm, the Oshkosh Overalls are preparing for next Sunday's game here. Reports have come to Appleton that one of the biggest crowds of rooters ever accompanying a team will invade the local park. This will be Oshkosh's first appearance in Appleton since the Overalls won the state championship last year by defeating Waukesha of the Lake Shore league.

The Overalls are building great hopes on Stevenson. They point proudly to the Menasha game when he allowed Menasha five hits and struck out 14 men. They also dare comparison with his batting average which is around .400. They claim that Kejawa, their catcher, is no slacker and refer to his record of 12 hits in the last four games. As a grand finale to the record they hold, they politely remind that they have scored 38 runs to their opponents' 10 this season. They have lost but one game and that was with New London when the score was 3 to 2. The Brandts limbered up a little on the diamond Wednesday night.

WANT JERSEYITES TO REFEREE TITLE SCRAP

By United Press Leased Wire
Jersey City.—The New Jersey boxing commission is inclined to stand by its right to name a Jersey man to referee the Dempsey-Carpentier bout, according to Chairman Robert Dougherty Friday.

"We do not have to name a Jersey man," he said, "and it is possible we shall not. However, the commission is responsible for everything that happens at the fight and we feel that we should name a man whose work is known here to be satisfactory."

Dougherty was presumed to have Harry Ertle in mind.

Cummings Threw First Curve Ball

William Arthur Cummings, of Athol, Mass., invented the first curve ball back in the 'Sixties.' He has written his own story of how he did it and how he would pitch to Babe Ruth today for Post-Crescent.

By William Arthur Cummings
Watching a clam shell sail gave me the first idea of a curve ball.

Once I had the idea planted in my head, I started in to see if I could get the same results with a baseball. The boys around my neighborhood ridiculed the idea. They called the ball I threw the "crazy Cummings curve."

I told them I would get it perfect some day and that they would then take their hats off to me. They did.

It took me three or four years to get the curve ball working.

After that I had to perfect it so it would break where I wanted it.

How To Do It

I had to pitch the ball with one foot just inside the front line of the box, the other inside the rear line. The arm had to be swung perpendicular and the ball delivered below the waist.

If anyone thinks he can curve a ball 45 feet from the plate under those restrictions, just try it.

As the ball left my hand I was allowed to step forward.

During my four years with the Star Amateur Club of Brooklyn I had the curve working nearly perfect.

I played professional ball for six years.

Under present rules anyone with a good arm can get all the curves and breaks with a ball.

But we couldn't in those days—not unless we fooled the umpire.

I can now teach the curves and breaks now with a little practice, but not full speed.

Pitching to Babe

I have been asked how I would pitch to Babe Ruth. That's a hard nut to crack. I would serve him the same kind of balls I did all left-handed hitters.

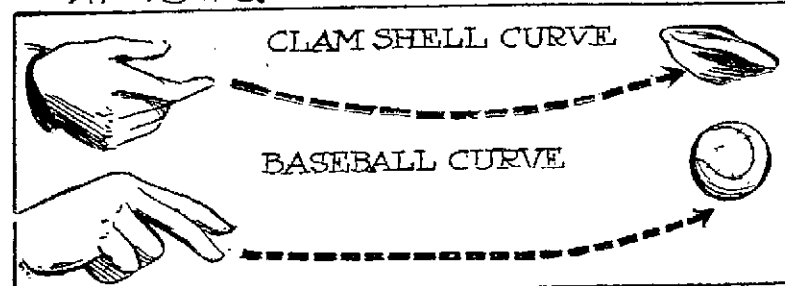

I've never seen Babe bat.

But here's how I'd throw to him: Raise curve close to his hands.

High out curve that would start close to the plate and drop outside.

AT 16 YRS. and AS HE IS TODAY

William Arthur Cummings

Start the ball two feet outside the plate and high and make it curve in and drop to the knee on inside of plate.

I should change the program each time he faced me. Also, I'd change the speed of each ball.

Outguess Ruth

I'd like to look him over and try to outguess him.

I have figured this out, assuming I was in my prime and had the same speed I possessed in 1875 and '76.

A free batter like Babe will go after a ball that looks good, but you could not fool him often on the same ball.

I'd start the ball the same way every time, but make it go another way.

To do this, a pitcher must have perfect control, confidence in himself and outguess him.

A pitcher must also have perfect control of his temper.

That's how I'd pitch to Babe Ruth and I don't think he'd get any home runs off my curve ball.

JACK'S CONDITION PLEASES EXPERTS

Spectators Believe Champ Is as Good as He Was in Toledo in 1919.

By Henry L. Farrell

By United Press Leased Wire
Atlantic City, N. J.—Jack Dempsey found himself securely hooked back into training harness Friday.

The program Friday began with his morning walk. In the afternoon he was to put on the gloves with Babe Herman, Patsy Cline and two of his heavyweight helpers.

Larry Williams, Jack Renault and Battling Ghee who have been enjoying the sights for the week or more that Dempsey has been loafing, were ordered early to bed last night.

"Get ready to take it," ordered Manager Jack Kearns.

Jack's preliminary workout Thursday left a good impression on spectators. One of the ringsiders was William "Pooch" Donovan, famous Harvard trainer.

"Pooch" said he believed Dempsey in as good condition as when he fought Willard.

"It's all guesses though, picking a winner," Pooch said.

"One is as good as the other."

Young John McCormack, son of the famous tenor, who boasts being born in Ireland and carries a brogue to prove it, was another ringsider. He's a Dempsey man all the way.

John Sheehan, Boston promoter, declared Dempsey looked "great—just as good as at Toledo."

Manager Kearns was delighted that the Jersey boxing commission postponed its referee decision.

"Rickard may be down Saturday for a conference," he said.

"I'll decide then whether I shall go to the commission meeting."

CARP'S NERVES WORN OUT LONG BEFORE BATTLE

Kilbane Picks Jack to Send Georges Into Dreamland in Four Rounds.

By Johnny Kilbane

Champion Jack Dempsey will knock out Georges Carpentier, the French flash, in four rounds when the two meet at Jersey City, July 2, for the world's heavyweight title.

That's my prediction.

I base it on a careful study of both men. I watched Dempsey work and boxed with him at Atlantic City. I went to Manhasset to study the Frenchman in action. I talked with them both.

Carpentier lacks the necessary confidence. And every day he spends at his camp at Manhasset adds to his unrest.

Buried away in the loneliness of rural Long Island, shut off from the outside with only a few sparring partners by the barbed wire entanglements that surround his premises, Georges has nothing to think of but the coming fight. He talks fight, eats fight and sleeps fight. It's on his mind always, because there is nothing else to detract from it. And it hurts him.

He conceals his worry from most of the outsiders on his "show off days" with the famous Carpentier smile.

But talk with him for an hour. You'll hear this about Dempsey and that about Dempsey—it's always something about the champ that he likes to talk about, sure proof that the battle is haunting Georges and that it's wearing on him. I've been fighting for 14 years and I know fighters. I've seen lots of other men who lacked confidence and I've seen the results when they stepped into the ring.

Dempsey meets scores of folks daily. It's bad in a way, of course, but it keeps his mind off the fight. He isn't worrying. He doesn't have time. Not once did he mention the Frenchman's name or voluntarily make a remark about the approaching fight in all the times I talked with him.

The Frenchman is in prime physical condition, but he isn't big enough to withstand the ferocious attacks of a fighter of Dempsey's caliber. Coupling this with the 15 to 20 pounds greater weight that the champ will carry, his greater reach and the fact that he'll put every ounce of strength he has into defending his title meal ticket, I can't concede the challenger a chance.

That's a little strong. He has a chance—one chance in a hundred of being able to slip over a lucky punch that lets him out on top. But if he should win, it would be one of the biggest upsets of the dope pall that ever has occurred in fist circles.

Sport Views And News

Twilight baseball, something new in Appleton, will be given its initial trial by the American legion. Six teams have been organized to provide after-supper recreation for the players and amusement for the fans. A schedule has been arranged and everything is in tip-top shape. This is a splendid opportunity for fans to satisfy their craving for the national pastime more than once a week and also gives the young men an outlet for their surplus energy.

The strong arm of the Wisconsin Boxing commission has fallen on Kid Moha and Johnny Herzog. This pair of boxers staged a sloppy bout in Wisconsin Rapids not so long ago and as a result they have been given a 90-day vacation. Some of these boxers think they can go up in the "bushes" and pull off anything but murder and get away with it. A few more suspensions along this line will prove quite beneficial to the ring game.

Once in a while those White Sox turn in a great little game of baseball. Their win over the Yankees 7 to 2, in the opening game of the series in New York sort of upset the dopesters who had figured on Ruth and the rest of 'em to cop four in a row. Wee Dick Kerr, as usual, kept the King of Swat from any home run wallows and this probably was the main cause for the Gothamites' upset. When Bambino is not getting his homers, the Yanks have a hard time winning.

Everett McGowan, St. Paul, speed skater, makes his debut tonight in the fistic arena when he swaps punches at Minneapolis with Joe Dugan in a preliminary scrap to the Eddie McGahey-Mike Gibbons tilt. The skater is credited with being pretty handy with his mits and if he can step around the ring as fast as he can glide over the frozen surface, young Mr. Dugan will probably be in for a very interesting evening.

DISCOVERED! A PITCHER BABE RUTH CAN'T HIT

New York.—Babe Ruth has met his match—but it ain't human.

Ruth flailed away Thursday at balls delivered by a pitching machine operated by compressed air. Slow balls, high balls, low balls, fast and curved balls floated from the nozzle of the machine and Babe couldn't touch them.

He declared the difficulty was that the batter cannot tell when the ball will be let loose.

Watching The Scoreboard

Thursday's hero — Left Fielder Nicholson of the Braves.

His rampart-clearing clout in the fifteenth inning beat the Cards, 5 to 4.

Another homer which helped was Earl Smith's in the first inning against the Athletics. It insured a 3 to 2 victory for Cleveland.

Aside from the Braves-Cards extra inning game, there were two more long fights. The Pirates went seventeen innings before Maranville's hit won from Brooklyn, 6 to 4.

The Giants were soaked by the Cubs, 5 to 4, in thirteen innings.

Cincinnati and the Phillies staged a slugging match, won by the former, 9 to 7.

The Reds made 14 hits and the Phillies 19.

No homers for the Yanks but they beat the White Sox, 7 to 3.

Incidents of the day were Washington's victory over the Browns, 6 to 3, and Boston's win from Detroit, 8 to 2.

ORGANIZING CHILDREN IN CITY'S PLAYGROUNDS

Instructing and interesting games are being planned by the directors of Appleton Women's club who are managing the playground work Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays on various school grounds. An effort is being made to develop the natural leadership of the children so that they will be capable of relying upon themselves. Miss Adelaide McKee, physical director of Appleton Women's club is desirous of organizing baseball teams among the boys and among the girls of the various districts so that games may be arranged between them later in the season.

DESCAMPS ORDERS GEORGES TO REST

Manhasset.—With Georges Carpentier down to within a pound of fighting weight, Manager Descamps Friday outlined his probable program for the remainder of the training.

"One day easy boxing. Next day rest. So on."

The diminutive Francois kept his charge close to the front porch Friday, the morning work in Sherry park was lighter than usual and the gloves were forbidden.

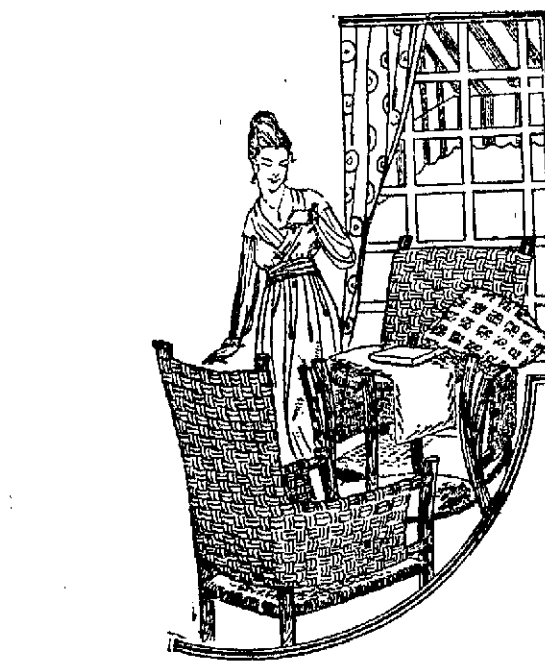

Georges himself says that he does not feel in the least over-trained; at his public workout he called for another round against Joe Jeannette after Descamps had said "fini."

The Carpentier stable, is enthusiastic about Georges' chances against Dempsey. Pollet stopped a couple of flying rights during a secret session and claims the challenger hits like the kick of a mule.

Bill Brennan, the last man to meet Dempsey, watched Carpentier's public workout and praised the Frenchman's boxing.

WANT APPLETON'S CIVIC PROGRAM TO FIT ITS BANKROLL

Committee of Five Will Investigate Expenditures and Revenues.

In order that Appleton taxpayers may know the exact financial condition of the city and to decide just what improvements projects the city can best undertake at this time, the city council at its regular meeting Wednesday night passed a resolution appointing Mayor J. A. Hawes to head a committee which will investigate these matters. A committee was also named to receive suggestions for a new name for Pierce park.

The resolution authorizes the mayor to appoint a committee of five, three of whom must be aldermen. It was introduced in the council by Alderman William Murphy and seconded by Alderman F. H. Fiedler. The resolution reads:

"Resolved, that the mayor be and hereby is authorized to appoint a committee of five members, three of whom shall be aldermen, to make a study of the financial condition of the city, including past expenditures and their tendencies, together with a survey of important projects which the city will be called upon to finance in the near future, the order in point of time in which the city shall undertake the various projects and the ability of the city to finance various projects, together with such recommendations as the committee may see fit to make."

Consider Improvement
The committee will consider proposed improvements of streets, bridge construction, construction of new school buildings and all other projects for which the city may be called upon to pay. It is likely that only improvements which are absolutely necessary will receive the sanction of the committee and the council in making appropriations will be guided by the committee's recommendations.

A resolution opening the south terminus of Pierce-ave. as a public thoroughfare was approved by the council. The avenue will be continued from its present terminus on Second-st. to the edge of the river. It will be 50 feet wide.

Opinion in the council favoring a new name for Pierce park which the city recently purchased, resulted in a committee being named to consider suggestions for a name for the new park. Aldermen Fose, Hansen, Lappen, Laabs, McGilgan and Beske, representing each ward in the city were named on this committee.

Want Alley Owned
A motion was carried instructing the committee on streets and bridges to confer with William Comerford in regard to opening temporarily the Sherman house alley. A petition was presented asking the alley be widened to 20 feet. It is now only 16 feet wide. Although Mr. Comerford has allowed the public free use of the alley for several years he has retained possession of it by closing it 24 hours each year.

The council passed a resolution authorizing proper notification of property owners along paving projects and providing for a meeting to be held in the council chambers on the evening of July 6 at which time the owners may have a voice in deciding what kind of pavement shall be used. Portions of streets which are to be paved are: Superior-st. from Atlantic to Pacific-st.; Morrison-st. from Atlantic to Pacific-st. and from Lawrence to Kimball-st.

YOUNG WOMEN WILL WORK IN STURGEON BAY FRUIT GROVES

Y. W. C. A. to Have Supervision of Camp for Young Women Next Month.

Young girls between the ages of 16 and 20 years of age may register at Appleton Womans club to pick cherries at the Y. W. C. A. camp near Sturgeon Bay. This camp formerly has been under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. This year the Y. W. C. A. have taken it and Miss Ethel Troy, of the town and county department of the central field of the Y. W. C. A. will have general supervision.

The camp is ideally situated and everything is planned with the idea of giving the young people a splendid time. A leader will be present for every ten girls, and there will be a trained nurse and a recreational director for the camp. An experienced teacher will be with the girls in the orchard.

The following daily schedule will be followed: Bugle call at 6 o'clock; breakfast at 6:30; inspection, 6:55; work in orchard from 7 to 12; lunch and rest from 12 to 1:30; work in orchard from 1:30 to 5; dinner at 5:30; singing and informal play from 6:30 to 7; camp fire stunts and stories from 7 to 9; lights out at 9 o'clock.

The Sunday program is especially interesting. In the morning the girls will attend the church of their choice. Trips to the woods with a song service and restful occupations fill the afternoon.

The camp is open from July 5 to August 5 and will provide a month of delightful vacation with congenial companions and plenty of fun. Girls will be accepted in the order of their application.
The camp is situated one mile from the boys' camp. Barracks have been built to accommodate the cherry pickers and the dormitories are provided with double deck beds.

Build New Parsonage
Work on St. Matthew's church parsonage, which is to be constructed on Mason-st., will begin next week. The contract was let to Fred Hoffman and the building is to cost $7,000.

were placed in a small box in his pocket. In some manner the box became crushed and the bees started crawling around within the man's trousers. The man retired to the lavatory, removed his trousers and shook them out of the open window to get rid of the bees. The train was crossing a bridge and the garment caught on the iron work and was pulled out of his hands.

Left without any trousers, the man waited until the conductor passed through. The apiarist offered the conductor a reward of $5 if he would stop his train long enough at the next station to send somebody to purchase another pair of trousers. The railroad official finally consented, and the embarrassed man was relieved of his predicament.

BUILDING AWAITS RETURN OF PLANS FROM MADISON

The United Consumers Corporation, which is about to build a new filling station at the corner of College-ave. and Walnut-st. has been delayed for several days in not getting its plans back from Madison, where they were sent for approval by state officials. The plans were sent about ten days ago, but so far nothing has been heard from them. The bids for the new building will be called for as soon as the plans are returned.

SWIMMING CLASSES FOR APPLETON GIRLS

The recreation department of Appleton Womans club is making preparations for registering girls of the city who desire to learn how to swim. A class for the instruction of beginners will be arranged between 7 and 8 o'clock at the municipal pool on whatever evening seems most convenient. Girls entering the class will have to have an early supper as they must not go into the pool within an hour after a meal.

Those interested in teaching girls to swim feel that it is quite necessary for all girls to learn to take care of themselves in the water, at least to swim for a few rods. The class will probably be held on Wednesdays. Registrations will be made from Monday to Wednesday of next week.

Mrs. George W. Thoms goes to Madison Saturday to spend commencement week at the state university with her daughter who is a member of the graduating class.

"Let me give you just five of the reasons:

"In the first place, Adlon is a distinctive blend of rich Havana filler, with fine Sumatra wrapper. Adlon is the net result of some five hundred experiments in blends.

"Next, Adlon hasn't that 'gum taste' you'll get in many cigars. An exclusive Adlon process removes these 'gums'. There's nothing in Adlon to offset its goodness.

"Third, Adlon is an economical cigar. You can smoke it clear down as far as you can retain a finger-hold on it. And the last draw will be as fine-flavored as the first.

"Fourth, Adlon is a clean cigar. It is produced under unexcelled sanitary conditions and is absolutely pure.

"And last, Adlon is a cigar of unmistakable individuality in its mildness. It is exactly what a cigar ought to be for the heavy smoker; and, of course, that means it is the best cigar for any smoker."

JOHNS NAMED TRUSTEE IN GARAGE BANKRUPTCY

Attorney Joshua L. Johns was named trustee in the bankruptcy case of Kimberly Motor Car company, Kimberly, by F. S. Bradford, referee, at a recent meeting of creditors.

The company, owned by Frank Clark and Alex Dambroski, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in May, both for the partnership and as individuals. Liabilities of the company are scheduled as: $1,166.65; of Mr. Clark, $243.75; of Mr. Dambroski, $251.65. Assets total between $150 and $200.

There are 17 creditors, of which the largest is Miller Rubber company, Milwaukee, which had an account of $338.85.

Auto Total Gains

Automobile license plates reaching the city the last few days indicate that the total number of machines in Wisconsin soon will reach the three-hundred thousand mark. The latest series is 295,000.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

OH, I DON'T FEEL LIKE GOING OVER TO BROWN'S TONIGHT. I'M TIRED! LET'S GO TOMORROW NIGHT!

WE'VE OWED THEM A CALL FOR A LONG TIME! YOU GO CALL THEM UP AND TELL THEM WE'LL BE OVER!

IS THIS BROWN'S RESIDENCE? IS MR. BROWN THERE? OH, IS THAT SO? OUT OF THE CITY? BACK NEXT WEEK—OH YES! THANK YOU MRS. BROWN!

NO USE OF GOING OVER TO BROWN'S TONIGHT. MR. BROWN IS OUT OF TOWN AND WON'T BE BACK UNTIL NEXT WEEK!

WHO TOLD YOU THAT?

WHY I TALKED TO MRS. BROWN!

THAT'S STRANGE, BOTH MR. AND MRS. BROWN ARE SITTING ON OUR FRONT PORCH—THEY JUST CAME!

Mayor Says Peterson Bill Means Increase In Taxes

Municipalities Oppose Measure Granting Taxation Power to School Boards.

Passage of the Peterson bill which Mayor J. A. Haines has opposed in four trips to Madison, is a direct possibility next week according to reports from the capitol. The bill would give school boards the power to levy taxes and would make them independent of city government.

"The passage of the Peterson bill is unthinkable and people should not remain indifferent," said Mayor Haines. "The bill would give the school boards of every city the second, third and fourth classes the power to levy and collect a 2 per cent tax. We would then have two taxing bodies in these cities. That state of affairs is unthinkable and radical."

"All the municipalities in the state are opposed to the Peterson bill and all have protested against its passage. The bill is an old, old story, having been brought before the legislature repeatedly for the last six years. Appleton's assessed valuation is $24,000,000. If the school board were given power to levy and collect a tax of 2 per cent solely for school purposes it would mean we would have to pay $480,000 in special taxes annually."

Means Tax Boost
"Our present tax for all purposes is now practically 2 per cent and on every hand we hear protests against high taxation but if the Peterson bill passes we can expect a 50 per cent increase in taxes."

"As I see it, the situation is this: Shall the city governments which are directly responsible to the people levy and collect taxes for all purposes or shall school boards which are not responsible to the people be permitted to collect an enormous tax for a single purpose."

"Whether a tax levying body shall be directly responsible to the taxpayer is the real issue of the bill. The boards of education are not directly responsible to the people. The members, as a rule, hold office practically by inheritance. The only time the taxpayer has any chance to say anything about school affairs is at the annual school meeting? It usually happens that school boards hold over from year to year until you might say they have inherited their offices. They grow to feel independent of the people and sometimes become extravagant."

No Check on Boards
"As it is now, there is a check on lavish expenditures by boards of education. Under the present system the boards must present their budgets to the city council which has the power to approve or reject the budget and the city council appropriates the money. If this check is removed by the passage of the Peterson bill there will be no safeguard for the taxpayer as far as school expenditures are concerned."

"Although the bill has been driven out every time it has been presented during the last six years there is now danger of its passage. Legislators with largely rural constituencies are indifferent to the bill as it does not affect those whom they represent. Lobbyists are taking advantage of this indifference to win these men's support for the Peterson bill."

"Those who are striving to make the bill a law say that there is no intention of the boards of education ever going as high as the 2 per cent levy. They say they have no intention of spending so lavishly. Then why give them the power? When men have a right to do a thing of this sort, they're going to do it and I don't think we should give them the chance. The taxpayers should make themselves heard on this matter."

AROUND TOWN

Directors Meeting
A special meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce is to be held at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. City planning is to be considered further, following the visit of Prof. Leonard Smith, Madison here.

Rev. Ketcher Here Sunday
The Rev. Paul Ketcher of Washington, D. C., will conduct the services Sunday at All Saints church. Rev. Ketcher was here a few weeks ago and was given an invitation to come again. Vestrymen of the church are making a special effort to have every communicant present at the Sunday services. Rev. Ketcher was formerly assistant rector in Trinity church, N. Y., and is an eloquent speaker.

The Rev. Arthur H. Werner, pastor of St. John Lutheran church, Center, is visiting in Milwaukee for a week.

Chris Schroeder and son Harry of Center, were in Fond du Lac Thursday on business.

250 HEAR ADDRESS ON HOG RAISING

Big Crowd Attends Picnic of Duroc Jersey Breeders Near Seymour.

Richard Moehring, Seymour, was the winner of the purebred sire offered in a guessing contest at the first annual picnic of the Outagamie County Duroc Jersey Breeders association at the Fred Krahn farm, near Seymour, Thursday. About 250 people attended the event and enjoyed the all-day program.

Addresses were made in the afternoon by J. M. Fargo and Dr. C. A. Purcell, Madison, who also spoke at the picnic of Poland China breeders the day previous. Mr. Fargo repeated his talk on hog culture for lean pork rather than lard for profit, and discussed another of Prof. Milton H. Scott's feeding demonstrations conducted with a breed sow at the farm. Dr. Purcell conducted an interesting discourse on hog diseases. Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent of the First National bank, also gave a short talk. Much interest and amusement was shown in the guessing contest. A hog was kept penned in until the afternoon, without any feeding since the night before. It was announced that a pint of shelled corn would be placed before the animal. She would be allowed to eat for three minutes, and each was told to guess the number of kernels that might be left. The plan was consummated and the remaining kernels counted. There were 838 and Mr. Moehring guessed 827, which was the nearest figure. He said the winning of the purebred sire would mean his start in the Duroc Jersey breeding business on a large scale.

Basket lunch was served at noon and other amusements were enjoyed by the children. Dr. Finkle, Seymour, delighted the picnickers with a series of slight-of-hand tricks.

DEATHS

CECELIA MARIE BAUER
Miss Cecelia Marie Bauer, daughter of Anton Bauer of 1151 Lawrence-st., died last night from illness following influenza.

She is survived by her father, one brother, John, and one sister, Mrs. George Meier of Washington.

The funeral will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning from the home and at 2 o'clock from the German Methodist church by the Rev. J. L. Menzner. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

MRS. ELIZABETH SCHMIDT
Mrs. Elizabeth Schmidt, 87, died Thursday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Morkle, 1075 Richmond-st. She is survived by seven children all of whom were with her when she died. They are John F. Schmidt, Blanche, Fred and Walter Schmidt, and Mrs. J. A. Morkle. Appleton, Frank, Gils Landing; Mrs. L. Kruse, Waterloo; Mrs. William Hein, Storm Lake, Ia.

Mrs. Schmidt was born in Germany, coming to this country in 1851 and settling at Waterloo. For the past 28 years she has resided in Appleton. Funeral services will be conducted at 12:30 Monday from the home and at 2 o'clock from the German Methodist church by the Rev. J. L. Menzner. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

YOUNG WOMAN CHARGES MOTOR COP WITH ASSAULT

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul—Mrs. William Glors, 19, was assaulted and beaten Thursday night in a swamp near McCarron's lake.

She said a motorcycle policeman with whom she had been riding, attacked her.

She was found unconscious by a farmer at 5 a. m. Friday.

At city hospital, she said she could identify the man.

Boston—The strike of compositors on several newspapers ended Thursday when they were ordered to return at once by the International Typographical union. Some of the men returned Wednesday night.
